

Third graders visited the International Musuem on Monday, March 29.

Second Grade Drug Awareness

Jade G. 5th

On March 24, Mrs. Jones's speech class performed skits and sang songs. They taught us 10 ways on how to say no to drugs. They also talked about how drugs are bad for you. So remember don't do DRUGS!

Mrs. Chamber's Flower Bed Taylor S. 5th

Have you seen the beautiful flowers Mrs. Chambers has planted? They are between the annex and the lower Elementary. We all hope they flourish and grow. Thank you Mrs. Chambers for adding this beautiful addition to our campus.

Book Fair is Goin' Bananas!

Gabrylle B. 3rd

Did you know the Primary book fair made $.2,500!?!? It was March 29 through April 2. They sold about 500 books in the primary library.

They do this to raise money for new books. The only problem was sometimes they ran out of books the kids wanted. But did you know the most books sold were Scooby-doo? There were about 30 people during school each of the five days and 15 people after school each of the five days. They had about 300 people come to the book fair!

Pancake Breakfast Taylor S. 5th

On March 27 there was a pancake breakfast at the High School. It was open to the public. If you went it was for a good cause. The profits went to the Elementary's lower library. They raised about one thousand dollars! I would like to thank the following people for donating the time and supplies.

Brookshire's, the area dairies, Grand Central, and the High School.

Hispanic Parents Brooke W.

Hispanic parent are getting more and more involved in our schoolwork. Now, they know what exactly their child is doing in school, thanks to many Spanish speaking people who work at our school.

TAKS Going Wild Taylor S. 3rd

Mrs. Lilley is a third grade math teacher. She is a very nice teacher. She is not pleased with the practice test from February. She says, "I think the students could have done better." She thinks the third grade will do well on the real TAKS Math Test. She says, "They have been practicing and working on strategies." Her biggest concern is, "The students won't slow down and take their time." Last year third grade scores were higher than ever. Thank you Mrs.Lilley!

The Play Kylie V. 5th

The Sidney high school students came to our school and put on a play for kindergarten through second grade. They did their version of Aesop's Fables. There were all kinds of morals throughout the story. The wolf wanted to be the good guy, but he couldn't because he had lied and been mean. So he was definitely not going to be the good guy! I hope all of you enjoyed the play that they put on for you.

They All Pitched In Seth S. 4th

We Are Texans was the name of a social studies unit we studied and was also part of the Pilot Program that we participated in this year. We spent several months studying about immigrants that came to Texas.

We studied and had to answer questions like: What cultures and customs did they bring to Texas?, Why did they come, and who came anyway? We also had to study about what these countries contrib-

ESL Thank You Letters Taylor S. 5th

On March 29,30,and 31 the third, fourth, and fifth grade classes came around to the G/T class to our museum for a project the G/T did. That is all over now, but what I thought was nice was Mrs. Denning's ESL classes wrote us thank you letters. We couldn't print all the letters, but here are a few of them.

This one is by Ricardo Duran in 3rd grade.

Dear G/T Class,
Thank you for inviting us to your room. My favorite part was the restaurant. I liked the restaurant because we got to eat. I also liked the computers. I liked the computers because I saw a lot of countries. I liked the games, the folktales , and the Christmas holidays. I liked the games because I won. I liked the folktales because they read us books. I liked the uted to Texas.

This study helped us understand the geography of Texas and other parts of the world. We had to consider the decisions and choices people from other countries made when they came to Texas. The project helped us understand the similarities and differences among population groups from around the globe.

It was a "fun filled" and learning project.

Christmas holidays because they told us a lot of things.
Your friend,
Ricardo Duran

This one is from Silvia Ruan in fourth grade.

Thank you for inviting us to your room. My favorite part was the computers because we got to see pictures about all the places and what kind of food they eat. The best part was the game because you get to get a card and I won. When it was my turn I got to the finish line and we started all over. I won again and they clapped.

Dear G/T Class,
Thank you for inviting us to your room. My favorite part was the computers. It was cool learning about other people and countries.
Your friend,
Edwin Mares

Come Read With Me!

Brooke W. 4th

Come Read! Every month, our school holds a special program called Come Read With Me. You bring your relative or friend, and they read to you. This is the good part. When you finish a book, your friend or whoever can take the test for you. You also get refreshments. Here they offer encouragement to come back and to have fun.
