Sally

Brenna Warren 5th

Once, there was a dog that was solid black, and huge! She lived with a whole family of dogs, but what made her special was she was the leader of all of them! It was a hard job because there were 50 dogs to keep track of!

The most amazing thing about her though was that she was 13 years old in dog years.

One day when they were laying out in the sun Sally heard something that noone else heard.

When she looked up she sniffed the air, and she could smell a mountain lion in the breeze! She sprang to her feet and looked all around herself and the other dogs!

Then the mountain lion jumped out from behind a bush, and tried to jump on Sally, but Sally jumped out of the way and the mountain lion missed!

Then Sally jumped on the mountain lion and wrestled it to the ground! They wrestled for 2 whole minutes until Sally had defeated the lion!

The lion laid there dead, and Sally was just fine.

Sally finally walked away with her tail in the air ,because she felt awesome 'cause she had just beat up the roughest toughest cat there ever was! Now she was the toughest of all cats and dogs!

Foxy

Enna Carroll 5th

There was a little girl who lived near lots of mountains. She liked to go and explore each one. One day she decided to go and explore one of the mountains. She had never been there before and could not wait.

The day finally came when she was going to explore the mountains. She ate breakfast and got her coat. She climbed the mountain and saw a little horse lying in the grass. The horse was the color of a little fox. The girl looked around for the mare. But the mare was nowhere in site, so the girl searched the mountains and found the mare dead. So she took the horse home and named it Foxy.

She took care of Foxy for many years, but she new that Foxy belonged to the wild. So one day she rode Foxy out to the end of the pasture and let Foxy out of the gate. She ran to her room without looking back.

When she got to her room she cried. For the next week she was sad and would not eat very much at all. The Doctor came and told her that Foxy was still at the gate looking for her. The girl ran as fast as she could to the gate and saw Foxy standing there just as the Doctor said. She opened the gate and ran to her horse. She rode her to the stable and gave her some hay and water. She new that Foxy was never going to leave her.

A Special Christmas!

On Monday morning, Cali looked out her window as snow started to fall. She saw the school bus coming up her driveway, and rushed to the door.

"Hi Cali! Guess what? I'm getting a Wii for Christmas! Can you believe it? Now you want be board when you come over!" Cali's best friend, Mary Jane said as Cali got on the bus.

"Oh hello, Mary Jane. I have some bad news. My mom is going to have to work on Christmas and she can't buy presents for us. I'm really glad you're getting a Wii! You have really been wanting that for a while!" Cali answered sadly.

The next morning, Mary Jane talked to her mother.

"Hi Mom! I wanted to ask you something. Do you think we could buy Cali something for Christmas? She is not getting ANY presents this year. I feel bad about it," she told her mother.

"That's a very nice thought, Mary Jane, but I don't know what to buy her. Do you have any ideas?"

"Yes, I think she would like an American Girl doll. I know just the one, because she has been looking at her picture for forever! We should get her Kit. Kit's a tomboy, just like Cali!" Mary Jane answered happily.

"Good idea, Mary Jane! I'm sure that Cali would love to get Kit. I will go order her now. I am so proud that you thought of this. There is only one problem, when are you going to give it to her?"

"I will take care of that Mom!" Mary Jane said with a smile.

On the next Wednesday, Cali went over to Mary Jane's house. Under her Christmas tree, were two presents.

"Cali, come look at my present!" Mary Jane called as they walked through the door.

"Cool, Mary Jane! Hey, what's this? Why does this present have my name on it?" Cali asked.

"Go ahead and open it. Merry Christmas!"

Cali opened her present and fainted! After she woke up, she was speechless.

"I have always wanted an American Girl. Oh thank you! How can I ever thank you?"

"Don't worry about it. Now you can have a wonderful Christmas. I even have something for your Mom"

Cali and Mary Jane had a wonderful Christmas. It turned out that Cali's Mom got the day off, so they all had a huge supper that Mary Jane's.

"Oh Mary Jane! This was a VERY special Christmas, after all!"

The Christmas Story

Once upon a time there was a boy named Al. He was a little mean boy with the children. Now he is being mean to the teachers. One day he got sent to the principal's office because he was saying bad names to his teacher.

Then one day when he woke up, he saw a lot of snow. It was Saturday morning, and Al wanted to go outside and play in the snow. But his mom said that he couldn't go outside because he has been so bad at school and losing points. So he just sat there and watched television.

Then it was Monday morning. Al got up and got dressed up. Then he walked to school. When he was walking to school, he was thinking about all the bad stuff he did at school. So he was thinking to be good at school starting today.

When he got to school, he as helping classmates from his class and being nice to the teachers. And now he is not going to the principal's office.

Then it was December the 25 the first day of Christmas.

Then when Al woke up, there was a present under his Christmas tree. It said, To: Al, From: Santa Claus. He was so excited that he got it and started to open it.

When he opened it, he took out the present. It was a teddy bear. He was so happy that he went to his mom's room.

His mom woke up .She saw the present that Al was holding. She asked him, "Who gave it to you?"

Al said, "Santa Claus gave it to me."

Then he told her mom all
