Wallaces Flying Frog Taylor Stewart 5th

Wallaces flying frog glides through the air to get from tree to tree. There are little webs of skin between its toes allow it to sail through the air. Wallaces flying frog can glide up to fifty feet in one jump. This flying frog is usually about four inches long, and has a diet of insects. You won't see these frogs in the United States because they live in southeast Asia.

Are Black and White People Different? Shandale Riley 5th

Well, the only thing that is different is our skin. Whites didn't treat blacks the way they should have. They would call them names and push them. The blacks felt like they were ants and the whites were birds trying to eat them and stomp them.

So this is what happened. The blacks could not drink out of good water fountains. They had to drink out of the junky ones. They also could not sit at the front of the bus. They had to sit at the very back of the bus where the seats were torn up. There is a lot more things that the blacks couldn't do.

Finally, Martin Luther King, Jr. kicks in and tries to stop all this nonsense, and the whites did not agree at all but the blacks kept on encouraging him so they could have the rights to do the things the whites could. But one of the whites didn't like what he was doing so he killed him.

So treat people the way you want to be treated. Because God gave them that skin and there is nothing you can do about it! So they have the equal rights to do what they want to do. And I don't think that they are mean. They just want to have friends and want to be like you. They have as much feelings as you do so treat them like they are people not ants.

The Bad Beginning

By Lemony Snicket

Alexandria Sanchez 5th

Do you like stories that have happy endings? Well then this isn't the book for you.

The Baudelaire orphans- Violet, Klaus, and Sunny- just lost their parents in a fire. When they died, they left the children the Baudelaire fortune. Violet, the eldest of the Baudelaire will get that fortune when she comes of age.

Meanwhile, they to live with their distant and greedy relative, Count Olaf, who wants the Baudelaire fortune so bad, he'll do anything to get it, anything. So how far will Count Olaf go? Find out in Lemony Snicket's, "The Bad Beginning."

The Carnivorous Carnival

By Lemony Snicket

Jade Gore 5th

The word "carnivorous" which appears in the title of this book, means "meat- eating" and once you have read such a bloodthirsty word, there is no reason to read any further. This carnivorous volume contains such a distressing story that consuming any of its contents would be far more stomach- turning than the most imbalanced meal.

To avoid causing discomfort, it would be best if I didn't mention any unnerving ingredients of this story, particularly a confusing map, an ambidextrous (you are equally left & right handed) person, an unruly crowd, and Chabo the Wolf Baby.

Sadly for Sunny an infant, Violet 14, Klaus 13 there unfortunate lives continue.
