How would you feel if you had to move to Hawaii? I read a book about a girl that has moved from Washington, D.C. to Hawaii. At first she didn't want to move, but she had no choice. When she went to school she met a Japanese girl named Kame Arata. Then one day she heard airplanes, but she thought she was dreaming.... If you want to find out the rest of the story read the book in the library.

Actual and Factual

This is how you make a film can camera obscure. First, you get a film can without the lid. Make a hole with a thumbtack at the bottom of the film can. Cover the open end of the film can with two pieces of frosted tape. While standing in a dark room, or in a shade, point the bottom of the film can with its pinhole toward a bright light. (For Example, look outdoors through a window).

Look at the frosted tape end of the film can while holding it about a foot from your eyes. You will see an inverted scene on the frosted tape. You have just made a pinhole camera.

Turn off all of the lights in a room except for two bare bulbs, one red one green. They should be about a foot apart. Point the bottom of the film can with its pinhole toward the lights. Observe the images of the lights with your camera. Notice how the pinhole images are reversed. The right lamp is imaged on the left side of the tape and vice-versa.

For color-blind individuals, cover one of the lights with your finger and notice which the image is blocked.

So lights travels in straight lines through the pinhole and light that starts on the left ends up on the right.

Thanksgiving Facts

Remember never cook the turkey too long, unless you want fried turkey on a bun!

Never dress in something to snazzy, or your type of dressing will be Thanksgiving dressing!

If it's your turn to make mashed potatoes, wash your hands or you'll have mashed turkey along with it!

Do you like cranberry sauce? Well don't get too excited or you'll end up crammed in your room!

If you like to have cornucopias, well just lie low and you can stay out of the coop!

Most importantly, don't fool with your aunt's scarecrow, or you'll be hanging out in a different way!

The best part is you can show your family how good you can fix dinner. If you remember the turkey doesn't go in the fridge, the cranberry sauce does! Also keep in touch with the scarecrow that is if your aunt hasn't made you into one. Oh, c'mon you'd probably look cute in your aunt's scarecrow outfit!

But, I caution you about the cabbage. You could get cabbaged all the way to your room!!

Well I hope you remember your do's and don'ts, Thanksgiving is coming!!
